

Piper Alderman gears up for a busy 2010

Wednesday, 2 December 2009

Piper Alderman is pleased to announce sixteen promotions to our national team in preparation for a busy 2010.

Our clients have exciting ideas for the new year and the significant promotions to our team reflect their plans to raise capital, begin new or postponed projects and ventures and refocus their business and workforce.

Piper Alderman Managing Partner Gordon Grieve said:

“It has been a difficult year for companies across Australia. Piper Alderman’s strong litigation and insolvency practices ensured 2009 was better for our firm than for many others.

Our litigators have been advising a range of clients including dozens of local councils in the Lehman Brothers matter and our insolvency practice is growing strongly with two internal promotions to partner in the last 6 months - Kim Dewhurst in July and Sasha Ivantsoff today”

Piper Alderman is also bolstering our team at the junior level with eight graduate lawyers appointed nationally and a range of clerks appointed across our offices and areas of practice. Gordon Grieve said:

“We received an astounding number of applications for the graduate positions and our law clerk program and it is a credit to Piper Alderman that we are in a position to continue with our programs when so many other firms have chosen not to recruit at all.”
